

JOSEPH CHICKEY, SIOR

VICE PRESIDENT

During more than thirty years in corporate and commercial real estate, Joe has tackled sophisticated projects from every angle. As a corporate real estate executive he crisscrossed the country buying, selling and leasing real estate for three major US corporations. As a developer, he has sold design/build construction projects, and leased, sold and financed specialized corporate facilities. As a broker, he has represented clients both large and small and helped them analyze their facility requirements, formulate a plan of action and execute the assignment from beginning to end. Projects ranged from leasing office and warehouse space, to the purchase, lease or sale of large manufacturing plants.

Joe's experience, training and creativity ensure that each client achieves the best possible outcome in every transaction.
